LITERARY NOTES.

Paris has a municipal library in eighteen of the twenty Wards or Mairies. Books may be rend at the library or taken home, free of charge. During 1879 the number of novels taken out was 29,089; of geography and travels, 10,647; of sciences and arts, 10,120, and of history, 7.836.

M. Arsene Houssaye has been at work for many years on a history of "Moliere, his Wife and Daughter," which will soon be issued in a large folio volume. The anthor was for a time manager of the Comedie Française, and has had exceptional advan-tages for studying up his subject.

What with Mr. Stedman's article on Walt Whitman, the biographical sketch of Mr. Gladstone and the extra pictorial attractions of the November " Scrib-Ber." this number has proved especially interesting to English readers. During the week orders for 4,000 additional copies were received by cable, making the English edition for this month 15,000.

Librarians will be grateful to Henry Holt & Co., for the slips to be pasted on catalogue cards which they now send out, on an extra fly sheet, with each one of their publications. There are three of the slips, coronding to the three heads under which books are catelogued, the name of the author, the title of the book, and the branch of literature to which the book

Mrs. John Lillie has written a girls' serial for "Harpers' Young People," and the first instalment will be printed December 7. It is the story of a shopgirl who buys a coveted silk dress on the instalment plan and has no end of trouble therefrom. It is called "Mildred's Bargain," and teaches the wholesome lesson that no one should buy what they have not the ready

The cheap Standard Series of I. K. Funk & Co. offers to the public a new work, especially prepared for it, the "Life and Work of Spurgeon." Rev. William B. Yarrow is the author, and Dr. John Stanford Holme contributes an introduction. One of the several illustrations is a fac-simile of the autograph notes from which Mr. Spurgeon preached a sermon and which be presented to Dr. Patton of The Baptist Weekly.

In the first week of December James R. Osgood & Co. will issue a volume of the "Tides, Sketches and Poems" of Fitz James O'Brien, the young writer who was well known in this city before the war, and who rave his it e for the Union cause. He contributed several elever articles to The Atlantic Monthly. The forthcoming volume has been caused by his triend, William Winter, and will contain a memoir of Mr. Office.

Henry Holt & Co. are about to issue a new nove: in the " Leisure Hour Series " which has been pot ular in Eugland. It is Miss Katharine Wylde's "A Dreamer," the scene of which stufts from English town and country to Part and Florence. Though the characters are principally English, a Russian Count and a lean, saflow, straight-haired Yaukee of the old-inshioned type are a part of the dramates p rsons. The story borders on the intense, and coursins many touches of genuine feeting.

A writer in The Boston Transcript says: "To correct a prevailing impression that the little Arthur in 'Tom Brown' is drawn from Dean Stanley in his boy-Hughes himself. I hag you to insert the following, taken from the preface to 'Tom Brown at Oxford,' Macmillan, 1861, where Mr. Hughes says: Thave only then to say that neither to the hero a pertrait of myself, nor is there may other neutral in either of the books, except in the case of Dr. Armold, where the true name is given." Mr. Charles T. Congdon's "Reminiscences of a Journalist" will be issued in book form during the coming week by James R. Osgood & Co. This series of articles, it will be remembered, was for several months a feature of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE. The author, to preparing them for publication in permanent form, made Important additions to most of the counters, including those on Enfus Cheate, Daniel Webster, College Life, Margaret Fuller, William H. Sewerd, The TRIBUNE, Know-Nationals and Political History, The introductory chapter on autobiography is entirely new.

General Lew Wallace's new novel, issued yesterday by the Harpers, is called "Ben-Hur: A Tale of the Christ." The author has adopted a striking planfor bringing the main facts in the life of Jesus vividly before his readers. The hero of the story is a Hebrew prince, and the narrative begins about the time of the birth of Christ. For a fancied crime the young prince is condemned to labor on a Roman galley. The captain of the gailey takes a liking to him, carries him to Rome, and he returns to Palestine in time to be present at the crucifixion of Christ. General Wallner's Aziec story. "The Fair God," met with considerable success. A fresh holiday book, as useful as it is ining, is " How We Went Birds'-nesting," by Amanda B. Harris (D. Lothrop & Ca.) It is a study of the habits of the most familiar wild birds, presented in descrip-tions of the summer ramples of two girls through field. wood and meadow, in search of birds' nests. It is writ-ten with charming simplicity of style, and its ornithology is taken directly from nature and not from books. There is something of the spirit of adventure in the book, and as the youthful reader of dime novels is filled with a desire to go out West and hunt Iudians, so the boys and girls who read this little volume will be prompted to visit the haunts of the birds and will have tock powers of observation directed and sharpened a good episode in the book is that describing how a stimore or ole was found with her read in a noose the old one of the throads of her own nest. She had an ed herself, by accident or design, at her own door way. The book is hands mely illustrated.

This volume, the first in the new series of Histories now in course of preparation by the publishing house of D. Lothrop & Co., will attract popular attention not only from the fascinating character of its subject, but from the p casing manner in which it is written. The author was for seve as years a resident of India, and had peculiarly good opportunities for studying the history and interaction of the country, as well as the peculiarlies of the Government and the characteristics of the people. That these opportunities were not neglected.

MINES AND MINING.

FRIDAY, Nov. 12-P. M. The mining stock markets to-day were irregular, ome of the low-price shares weakening and others gaining 2 to 4 cents. Durango was specially weak down to 16 cents, and Calaveras was active with an advance to 27 cents. Goodshaw rose from 75 to 90 cents, and Moose was firm at 77 cents. The Leadville shares generally were weaker on the unfavorable reports published this morning; Chrysolite down % to 5, Little Pittsburg down 14 to 2, and Little Chief down 15 cents to 90 cents. Horn Silver sold as low as 10. The substantial dividend stocks, however, were strong all around at full figures, with only small transactions because of the limited offerings. The markets closed irregular and unsettled.

The Deadwood Mining Company has declared its eleventh dividend (for October), payable at Wells, Fargo & Co.'s, November 20. This dividend will make the sum of $275,000 distributed to the stockholders.

The Homestake Mining Company has declared for October another double dividend of 60 cents per share, payable at Wells, Fargo & Co.'s, November 25. This payment will make the sum of $780,000 paid to the stockholders.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 12.—Favorable reports received for the past two weeks from Alta, together with a gradual concentration of the stock, have caused a large advance in the same. Prices of Beaton, Justice and other mines in the same neighbor hood have been greatly enhanced by the movement in whize below 2.600 level of the Union Consolidated mine, and the ruising of ore from the 2.500 level, have caused an active demand for this stock and induced short sellers to cover. The number of Constock shures changing mands has not been equalled to save en seilers to cover. The number of Constock shares changing hands has not been equalized to several weeks. No more is known of Alra than what has been learned through the use of diamond drill, which may give it a fletitions value.

It, C. Jacoes, an old California miner, who has just returned from the Cananea Mountains, forty miles south of the Arizona line, in Sonora, Mexico, gives a flattering account of the smeiting mines in that it cality, as of the gold and silver lodes further south and w.s.. Ledges of smeiting ores range from lifteen to flaty feel in width, and be says that with modern improvements in machinery they will pay immeese profits.

modern in provements in machinery they will pay immerse profits.

Many leading Mexicans are now here negotiating for adds, among whom is ex-Governor Montverde, of Solora. Jucobs reports that a new ore development was made in the Delicias gold mine just previous to his departure.

Sierra Nevaga levies another assessment of $1 per share, Oriental one of 25 ceats, and Black Hawk one of 10 cents. Golden Ferra declares a dividend of 25 ceats per Share.

Leady LLE, Col., Nov. 12.—In the Amie Mine yesterday six men were prostrated by gas when the live men were killed in Chrysonite. "Joe" McDonald shaft down Little Chief at the earnest request of managers Kolker and Canda. Manager Herrick, then in Denver, returned vesterday forenson, and on the same train came Manager Canda, of the Little Pritsburg, returning from Fairplay, and with rick, then the seme train came Manager Canda, of the Little Putsburg, returning from Farplay, and with a writ of rejunction against Lattle Chief, issued by Judge McMorris, ordering all shafts of Lattle Calet closed. The order was served yesterday, but was to ally distegarded. The blower was started last might at 11 o'clock on the Daly shalt, and an upcast was again at once created on the No. 1 shaft. Starting the drift has cleared the Little Chief and given Amie time to protect her ground failty. Over 100 feet of orift connecting Amie with Little Pittsburg has been broken nown, so no possible danger can ever occur to the Amie or other properties to the east. A considering the connecting the semination was held this morning between Roiker, Canda, Herrick, George Daly, A. W. Girand a dezen other prominent men Manager Herrick stated his plan to blow down ground between Little Chief and Carbomierous; he had placed 1,000 p ands of Giant power along the connecting drift and in-Grandierous; he had placed 1,000 p. ands of stant powder along the connecting drift and insisted that he would at all hazards blow down the ground. The blast was fired at 1 p. m. to-day, and shook the surface of Fryer Hill for a long distance. I was on the ground and the shock was severe; stones and debris were thrown from shafts 1 and 3 of the Lottle Chief and the covering over No. 4 shaft was blown our. At 3 shock was severe; stones and debris were thrown from shafts 1 and 3 of the Luttle Chief and the covering over No. 4 shaft was blown out. At 3 o'chock I descended the Daly shaft, but could not get to where the blast was fired on account of smoke, so I don't know positively whether it has been effective. One hundred boxes of giant powder were afterward ordered to the mine, and Manager Herrick will, if necessary, put in another large blast. The smoke and gas are coming out in large quantities from Carboniferous shafts I and 2, and beyond doubt the large stope below is on hire. The New Discovery therefore can scarcely be saved, and the safety of Chrysonite depends on the protection of the Little Chief. If fire gets in Little Chief it will likely spread to the north workings of Chrysolite. The safety of all three mines is deemed extremely doubtful, and much excitement has been created.

Virginia City, Nov. 12.—In the Union Consolidated mine a drift has been started south from the northeast connection with the Sierra Nevada 2,500 level, and is expected to cut ore in about thirty jeet, 1 he balance wheel of the Yeilow Jacket pumping engine has been broken, and it will take ten days to repair it.

The balance wheel of the relief of scale plutping engine has been broken, and it will take ten days to repair it.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 12.—The Star of Hope, a recently discovered gold mine near the Bonanza Chief, is attracting much attention from the average richness of the o.e. An interest has been purchased by New-York capitalists, and a mill is expected soon to be erected. The voin is six feet wide, and an average of the entire body is said to show $55 in gold to the ton.

The smelter is running steadily at the Alta Montana Works, producing 6,000 pounds of crude bullion daily. There are now on hand awaiting transportation 40,000 pounds of builton. The Alta and Comet Mines are vigorously worked, producing fifty tons of ore daily.

Negotiations are pending with Boston capitalists to form a company and start operations on the Legal Tender Mine. In 1871-72 the Legal Tender pronaced $350,000, the ores being shipped to Europe for reduction.

Boston people have recently purchased the different claims on the Gregory and formed a stock company. Hoisting works are being erected at the mine, as also a concentrating mill to treat the large dump of second-class ores which have accumulated for the past five years.

The new hoisting works on the Benanza Chief are nearly completed, and sinking on the extensive ore body will shortly begin. The vein is fifty-six feet wide, all nav ore. The last clean-up of $3.600 is now at the United States Assay office. The company should pay dividends before long from the ore now an sight, and bullion production should be maintained for years to come. now in sight, and bullion i Bullion valued at $31,593 73 was received in this Bultion valued at $31,095 to was received yesterday from the mines.

The superintendent of the Takoma Company, Globe, Arizona, reports, under date of November 2, depth of Big Johnnie shaft fifty feet, with seam of copper glance at bottom running $50 in silver per ten and 44 per cent copper, valued at $180 per ton; the O'Dougherty shaft is down forty leet, the seam of gance being twenty-eight inches thick, running $70 in silver per ton and 54 per cent copper, valued at $230 per ton.

An official telegram, dated Globe, Arizona, November 10, says: "Mack Morris, beyond doubt, is all that is claimed for it; work in good condition, ore abundant and prospects magnificent. Golden Eagle magnificent," The ore statement of the Iron Silver Mining Comto-day was easier than it was yesterday, there will a marked absence of that confidence in stock trasactions which was so characteristic of yesterday's operations. From the opening prices dragged, and subject to some unimportant railies, continued to be heavy to the end. There were, however, out few declines that amounted to as much as 1 per cent, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, Denver and Rio Grande, the Elevated Rairoad shares, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, Iron Mountain, the Wabashes, and Western Union being the conspictous exceptions in losing 1 per cent or more, and Reading, which was a resulting and designed. Reading, which was specially weak and decitia per cent to 454. Various causes were assigned for the special weakness of Reading, has
